

TWELVE MONTHS AGONE.

REVIEW OF A COUPLE OF DAYS.

LAST JANUARY.

A Constitution that was not proclaimed—A Mattered Monarch—Committee of Safety.

Yesterday was the anniversary of one of the most important days of the uprising which has wiped out Hawaiian Monarchy. The 14th of January, 1893, witnessed the proclamation of the Legislature and the first open resistance to the authority of Liliuokalani. She was forced to forego proclamation of the new Constitution.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the 14th, the town was thrown into a state of feverish excitement by news that the Queen was determined that her Cabinet should sign the new Constitution and that she proposed promulgating the same at once. Political happenings of the past week had been portending such things as the want of confidence vote, the secret attempt of the Queen to override her ministers, the cabinet plotting with Nobles, the signing of the organic and lottery bills and the alarming talks of House members. At a general meeting of business men and others to discuss the situation, the appearance of the new constitution was suggested, but so preposterous did such a line of action on the part of the ruler appear, that no preventative measures were taken. During the forenoon of the 14th, however, it was learned positively that the Queen had marked out her course of rule or ruin and would follow it. The Cabinet was urged to steadfastly resist. Strange to say, the Legislature adjourned quietly.

On the afternoon of the 14th the first tremblings of the upheaval were felt. The program for issuance of the new constitution was inaugurated by a pre-arranged request for it from a native political society. This had been ordered as a feature of the measure of opposition proposed. Some of the natives rebelled, drawing the line when they were refused even an intimation of the contents of the infamous magna carta.

Grows of natives had gathered in the vicinity of the Palace. The Ministers were summoned by the Queen. They appeared to her, regularly arrayed and turning the pages of the new Constitution. They had assured themselves that a resolution would be precipitated if the Queen refused to sign the new law and surrounding her authority. Her final answer at this interview was: "Gentlemen, I do not wish to hear any more advice, and I do not wish to sign the Constitution and to do it now." The Ministers were told that she would read the Constitution on the steps of the Palace. If necessary, they were to mean a riot. An appeal to citizens was made by the Ministry. Leading men assembled at W. O. Smith's office, and decided with one voice that the new law for decision and positive action had arrived. It was a question of liberty or worse than slavery. They would resist to the bitter end and the revolution of the throne. With this knowledge the Cabinet, in face of the fear that they might be arrested and punished for resisting the Queen, made their last stand. The Queen, after a stormy interview of two hours, convinced that she simply held the throttle of a volcano. She most reluctantly and without any attempt to conceal bitterness yielded to the extent of agreeing to temporarily postpone the new Constitution. Then the ministerial cabinet and woman appeared before the invited assemblage in the throne room. Her memorable speech, addressed to the assembled citizens, was a masterpiece of the highest order of political art. She delivered Mr. White thanked the Queen, and she retired. Mr. Kaunakakai, a fiery supporter of Liliuokalani, made himself heard, and he wanted the lives of the Cabinet and was thirsting for blood. The Queen, now half-frightened and half-angry, turned to the balcony and spoke from the upper balcony of the Palace. She said she had been betrayed by her Ministers, but the new Constitution would early be promulgated. Mr. White, from the steps, denounced the Cabinet and counseled their murder. He was induced to cease and the crowd dispersed. All the time the Palace was filled with the sound of the firing of the guns. The Queen, with untrammelled power, exempted natives from taxation and disarmed the white men not married to natives. That evening the Committee of Safety was organized. On the morning of the 15th, a year ago to-day, the campaign of the Committee was begun. All phases of the crisis were discussed. They acted subject to the approval of a citizens' mass meeting, which subsequently took place. The heartiest endorsement. The 15th of 1893 was Sunday, but on that day the foundation of the Provisional Government was laid and the death knell of Hawaiian monarchy sounded. The Queen and her retainers were not idle. A truce was patched up with the Queen, and the death knell of Hawaiian monarchy sounded. The Queen and her retainers were not idle. A truce was patched up with the Queen, and the death knell of Hawaiian monarchy sounded.

HONOR TO HIS MEMORY.

Largely Attended Funeral of the Late Franklin S. Pratt on Sunday. St. Andrew's cathedral was overcrowded during the funeral of Franklin S. Pratt, who died on Sunday. Hundreds were unable to gain admittance. Every member of the wide circle of admirers of the deceased gathered to pay the last tribute of respect. In life Mr. Pratt had engaged to a high degree the esteem and confidence of the community. Citizens from every walk of life were eager to show their appreciation of the man by taking part in the funeral. The Hawaiian band contributed somber music at the cathedral and headed the cortege to Nuuanu cemetery. Mr. W. Taylor presided at the organ and a number of beautiful and touching hymns were rendered by a specially selected choir. Major General Smith, the prominent and, with others, comforted the sorrowing widow, Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, never more effectively read the grand and impressive Episcopalian burial service. There seemed to be especial force and consolation in the sentence, "I am the resurrection and the life." Floral tributes were sent in great numbers. The pall bearers were: Mr. W. O. Smith, Judge Whiting, J. O. Carter, Wm. P. Gooch, J. B. Rose, W. Allen, Godfrey Brown and J. A. Clegg. There was a guard of honor composed of sixteen kahili bearers. The cortege, at the death of the man, at half past four and most of the Government officials attended the funeral.

WAIANAE SHARKS.

They Lead the Procession and Should Have a Chance at the Fair.

EDITOR STAR: It appears that the shark-rod of Pearl Harbor is short this year, and a dearth of that pleasant breed of insects consequent thereat. Your correspondent humbly suggests a trial of the famous shark-groceries of "far-off" Waianae. This locality has long enjoyed the proud distinction of producing this noble fish in all styles and lengths, from the playful humpback, to his white relative above and willing to swallow an average sized canoe, owner, paddles and all. While as a rule our people discourage the capture or killing of these gentle creatures, yet to the end that our products may be well represented at the Waianae Fair we cordially invite Mr. Wilcox to sail his yacht down some quiet evening and tow home a nice quiet Waianae shark, anywhere from six to thirty feet in length. We need for him to say anything, "just drop a line," as Mr. Saxe says, and the thing's done. It would be only justice to our townsmen that the reputation of his shark-ship should be stated, together with a brief statement of his docile disposition, his great sociability and his wonderful acrobatic powers. This is merely a suggestion, but the invitation holds good for a month or so, or until the breeding season commences. We never allow them disturbed then.

END OF HIS PASTORATE.

Rev. Dr. E. G. Beckwith's Pleasing and Unusual Farewell Discourse.

The last sermon of Rev. E. G. Beckwith as pastor of the Central Union church was heard Sunday morning and evening. On both occasions the large building was crowded. The pulpit was dressed with flowers and vines and the music was unusually attractive, there being no choir. The retiring pastor said he could not trust himself to deliver discourses of the nature customary to farewells. He would simply offer to his congregation words of cheer and advice. He had tried to teach his hearers to put all dependence in the Holy Writ. He believed his exhortations had borne fruit. The society had prospered and grown greatly. If it clung to the faith its strength and helpfulness would continue and blessings from above would dwell with it. The venerable pastor urged a well defined, well settled course. He admonished them to continue labor and charitable to be unceasing in the battle against intemperance and Sabbath-breaking, to be watchful of the young men and women, to let the influence of Christianity have a bearing upon daily life. Rev. Mr. Beckwith regretted that he had been unable to call upon his friends before leaving. This evening a farewell social will take place in the parlors of the church.

The Admiral Has arrived and taken quarters at the establishment of Hollister & Co. The Admiral Cigarettes are the very latest in the way of a delightful smoke, and have met with immense success wherever introduced. Hollister & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

R. & S. Homoeopathic Sore Throat Tablets—curative and preventive. For sale by all druggists.

ANNEXATION CLUB.

The Celebration Arrangements Placed in the Hands of Capable Details.

There was a large attendance on Saturday evening's meeting of the Annexation Club for the arrangement of an anniversary celebration next Wednesday. Upon the report of the joint committee of the Club and the American League it was decided for a prospecting meeting, fireworks and music as the features of the evening programme. The meeting will be held at the Executive Building square. On motion chairman McKee appointed a general committee, which was divided into sub-committees as follows:

Finance—T. F. Lansing, L. C. Ables, J. L. McLean, Orators—C. B. Ripley, Dr. R. Emerson, T. B. McKee, C. S. Bradford, Fireworks—T. B. Murray, W. G. Atwell, J. A. Smith, J. B. Rose, J. H. Kennedy, Decoration—G. C. Stratemeyer, J. S. Martin, J. K. Kilduff, Dr. C. B. Woods, D. B. Smith, W. G. Smith, J. V. Simonson.

PROBABLY NO SPEAKING.

COLD WATER ON THE MASS-MEETING PROPOSAL.

The Usual Orators Do Not Care to Do any Spelling-Book on Wednesday Evening Next.

At noon arrangements for the Abrogation celebration had assumed a somewhat puzzling phase. There is trouble in securing orators and it looked very much as though there would be no speaking. President Dole, Messrs Wilder, Kinney, Danon, Prof. Scott, Prof. Hoehner, Mr. Kinney, W. R. Castle and several others for various reasons declined to appear. Mr. Ripley and his committee have a negative tone in their report to-night to the general committee.

Speaking of finances, T. F. Lansing said all the money needed could be had in a couple of hours. T. B. Murray has selected a lot of fireworks and Hugh Gann has secured the organ. The Provisional Government band, Mr. Stratemeyer said the decorating committee had intended to do something novel and elaborate if they could. The speakers stand on the Merchant street side of Union Square. He said they would show something attractive in any event. Mr. Stratemeyer was in favor of a torch-light parade if there was to be no orators.

HONOR TO HIS MEMORY.

Largely Attended Funeral of the Late Franklin S. Pratt on Sunday.

St. Andrew's cathedral was overcrowded during the funeral of Franklin S. Pratt, who died on Sunday. Hundreds were unable to gain admittance. Every member of the wide circle of admirers of the deceased gathered to pay the last tribute of respect. In life Mr. Pratt had engaged to a high degree the esteem and confidence of the community. Citizens from every walk of life were eager to show their appreciation of the man by taking part in the funeral. The Hawaiian band contributed somber music at the cathedral and headed the cortege to Nuuanu cemetery. Mr. W. Taylor presided at the organ and a number of beautiful and touching hymns were rendered by a specially selected choir. Major General Smith, the prominent and, with others, comforted the sorrowing widow, Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, never more effectively read the grand and impressive Episcopalian burial service. There seemed to be especial force and consolation in the sentence, "I am the resurrection and the life." Floral tributes were sent in great numbers. The pall bearers were: Mr. W. O. Smith, Judge Whiting, J. O. Carter, Wm. P. Gooch, J. B. Rose, W. Allen, Godfrey Brown and J. A. Clegg. There was a guard of honor composed of sixteen kahili bearers. The cortege, at the death of the man, at half past four and most of the Government officials attended the funeral.

WAIANAE SHARKS.

They Lead the Procession and Should Have a Chance at the Fair.

EDITOR STAR: It appears that the shark-rod of Pearl Harbor is short this year, and a dearth of that pleasant breed of insects consequent thereat. Your correspondent humbly suggests a trial of the famous shark-groceries of "far-off" Waianae. This locality has long enjoyed the proud distinction of producing this noble fish in all styles and lengths, from the playful humpback, to his white relative above and willing to swallow an average sized canoe, owner, paddles and all. While as a rule our people discourage the capture or killing of these gentle creatures, yet to the end that our products may be well represented at the Waianae Fair we cordially invite Mr. Wilcox to sail his yacht down some quiet evening and tow home a nice quiet Waianae shark, anywhere from six to thirty feet in length. We need for him to say anything, "just drop a line," as Mr. Saxe says, and the thing's done. It would be only justice to our townsmen that the reputation of his shark-ship should be stated, together with a brief statement of his docile disposition, his great sociability and his wonderful acrobatic powers. This is merely a suggestion, but the invitation holds good for a month or so, or until the breeding season commences. We never allow them disturbed then.

Yours, S. PARTISAN.

Waianae, Jan. 12, 1894.

An Instantaneous Gem.

One of the prettiest samples of instantaneous photography ever seen in the Islands is shown in the window of King Bros. It is the work of William King. The subject is about as active a person as could be desired. The team of Fire Company No. 2, dashing out of the house at full speed, their eyes showing excitement and the bareheaded driver in the seat makes a stirring scene. Chief Hunt arranged the subject at the request of the artist. The men went in their coats and were undressed and the blanket when the alarm sounded. John Sullivan was timer and his watch showed 36 seconds of elapsed time from the sound of the alarm to the chemical was clear of the house. Tom Morphey, the driver did all the hitching himself. On a second trial Driver King of the house wagon and the corps equalled the time of the lively chemical crowd.

President Dole and wife and the Cabinet members and their wives will form the receiving party at the Council hall, Executive building, Wednesday.

PARDONS FOR CONVICTS.

JANUARY 17TH A DAY TO BREAK FETTERS.

Important and Commendable Action of the Councils—That Missing Club Resolution.

The members of the Executive and Advisory Councils met in special session this afternoon at 3 p. m. all the members being present except the President and Messrs. Mendonca, Tenney, Morgan and Hatch.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with until the regular session. Attorney General Smith stated that the subject of the meeting was the recommendation of the Prison Commissioners in relation to pardons and commutation of sentence of certain prisoners now in the Oahu jail. He further said that the Executive Council had had the matter under consideration and fully endorsed the recommendation of the Prison Commissioners; at the same time he hoped the names of those to be pardoned would not be made public either by the members of the Council or the STAR reporter, who was the sole representative of the press present.

Connellman Brown offered a resolution endorsing the above request and to pardons to be made known and take effect on January 17th. Carried unanimously. Councilman Emmeluth hoped that proper employment would be given to those about to be pardoned and the Attorney General replied that the matter had been attended to already. Attorney General Smith said he had an explanation to make in relation to the communication of the Annexation Club endorsing Walter G. Smith for any vacancy which might occur in the Council. The paper had been handed to President Dole who had mislaid it, but on the day before the last meeting of the Councils had asked him to make a statement to the Councils to that effect in case of his absence. Unfortunately he had forgotten to do so. Both President Dole and the speaker much regretted the occurrence, and while the former desired to take the whole blame on his shoulders, Mr. Smith thought the blame was his. Mr. Smith then stated that President and Mrs. Dole would hold a reception in the Council Chamber on Wednesday, the 17th, at 11 a. m., and hoped that the members of the Council and the public generally would attend.

RAINFALL FOR DECEMBER, 1893.

HAWAII.

STATIONS.	FEET.	INCHES.
Waikane	50	6.73
Papeete	100	9.26
Honolulu	300	8.62
Kalahe	12.38	1.85
Hakalua	200	7.49
Lanipahoehoe	10	5.11
Lanipahoehoe	900	5.36
Paia	250	2.64
Paia	750	2.95
Paia	1200	2.45
Paia	1500	2.45
Paia	1800	2.45
Paia	2100	2.45
Paia	2400	2.45
Paia	2700	2.45
Paia	3000	2.45
Paia	3300	2.45
Paia	3600	2.45
Paia	3900	2.45
Paia	4200	2.45
Paia	4500	2.45
Paia	4800	2.45
Paia	5100	2.45
Paia	5400	2.45
Paia	5700	2.45
Paia	6000	2.45

MAUI.

Kahului	100	1.20
Waikapu	400	1.97
Kula	2000	2.64
Haleakala Ranch	2000	2.64
Waimea	15	1.45
Kaunapali	15	3.00

MOLOKAI.

Maunaloa	70	3.00
Koala	1600	2.78

KAUAI.

Punahou	50	1.95
Oahu College	80	1.79
Honolulu (City)	200	1.58
Kilauea	100	1.39
Kilauea (Kewalo)	100	1.39
Kaplania Park	10	1.44
Makiki	150	1.58
Manoa	100	1.75
Manoa Asylum	30	1.45
Panaua	50	1.62
Nuuanu	50	1.75
Nuuanu (Elec. Sta.)	250	3.11
Nuuanu	400	4.45
Nuuanu	750	3.83
Nuuanu, Luakaha	850	7.23
Aluhannu	350	3.88
Kahuku	25	1.42
Ewa Plantation	60	1.54

KAUAI.

Lihue (Envoe-Farou)	200	3.15
Lihue (Mokapu)	300	6.10
Hanalei	200	4.44
Hanalei	200	4.44
Hanalei	200	4.44
Hanalei	200	4.44
Hanalei	200	4.44
Hanalei	200	4.44
Hanalei	200	4.44
Hanalei	200	4.44
Hanalei	200	4.44

A Piano Tuner Sent For.

The music department of the Hawaiian News Company, with its accustomed enterprise, no sooner heard of Mr. Benson's departure for the Coast than it sent for a first-class piano tuner, who will arrive in February. Arrangements have been made with Mr. Benson and Chase, of San Francisco, for a first class man to be sent here when needed.

Electric Lighting.

The Hawaiian Electric Light Company notify consumers through our advertising columns that they are now prepared to furnish light and power in any quantity. The company also take charge of the wiring and putting up of residences, stores and offices from this day, this work having hitherto been done by E. O. Hall & Son.

Made Strong Beer.

Keoka, a native, was the central figure at the District Court Saturday in what the police call "a swindle case." He had been brewing beer with potatoes and molasses. Prof. A. B. Lyons testified that the liquor was 10 per cent alcohol. This beer was sold by the bottle and pail. A number of people were using it for a spree at Keoka's house on New Year's Day. Defendant was fined $100 and costs.

It is understood that the Government by the Attorney General has written a letter to Consul Glavin at San Diego asking him to take Clerk Rothwell's place in the local postoffice.

It has been said that the world pays most to those who kill, generate and great lord next most to those who abuse, slanders and accuses, while those who preach, teach and write for the papers come along somewhere near the bottom of the list.

Chicago has expended over $200,000,000 in the construction of buildings since 1876. The annual expenditure for that purpose is between $45,000,000 and $50,000,000.

The study chair of Richard Baxter when he wrote "The Saints' Everlasting Rest" is in the possession of Rev. Reuben Thomas of Brookline, Mass.

WAILUKU NEWS.

Royalist Canards—A Long Pipe Line—Other Matters.

WAILUKU, Jan. 13.—On the arrival of the Clarendon last Wednesday it was rumored that Congress had decided in favor of the Cleveland and Gresham policy. That was the Royalists' side of the mail; but later on, when the intelligence portion of the mail was opened, the secret was revealed as usual that another Royalist canard was afloat. This surprised very few, as such are the pieces of stuff our antagonists have to rely on, like the straw which the drowning man grasps at.

Bishop Wilcox preached in the Wailuku Anglican church on Sunday, January 17th. His sermon touched on the birth of Christ. The Bishop has started a movement to provide for a minister for this church to hold services at Wailuku twice a month and at Lahaina twice, and to reside two weeks in each place each month.

Ally Yana, tried in the District Court at Wailuku January 10th for conducting a che-fa lottery, was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs by Judge Daniels.

Alona, tried in the District Court at Wailuku January 11th for unlawful possession of opium, was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs by Judge Daniels.

Died January 8th, at Wailuku, Rosa, the beloved daughter of Antonio Bolera, a type writer. She was the wife of a well-known and popular man, and was a native of Wailuku. She was a very kind and generous person, and was much loved by all who knew her. She was a native of Wailuku and was a very kind and generous person, and was much loved by all who knew her.

The Wailuku Hotel, formerly known as Mess. Yarrick's, has changed hands. Mr. T. Robinson is the new proprietor, who is an old resident of Wailuku and very popular. It is anticipated that Billy will put things in good shape for the many tourists and travelers who will patronize him when political wars are over and the country saved.

The laying of the long pipe running from the large reservoir in Wailuku to Spreckelsville across the hills is rapidly progressing. Over one mile is already completed and the balance (all about three miles) will be completed in about six weeks. Mr. McKeen, the popular foreman of the Rieck Iron Works, who is in charge of the construction of the line, is unequalled in that branch of business. His ability was well tested in the constructing of the immense pipe line at Makaweli, Kauai.

Mr. E. J. Baker is attaching an oil bottle to one of the engines in the Spreckelsville mill the bottle burst by some means or other and blew the hot liquid all over his face, scalding him very badly. Baker is now under treatment in Wailuku and is doing well.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

A steam laundry is to go into the field here in rivalry of the Chinese.

The firm of Egan & Gunn is to be dissolved by the retirement of Mr. Gunn.

The Board of Fire Commissioners held a special meeting at 3 p. m. to-day.

The Palet Brewery Company Agency is distributing some neat and useful advertising souvenirs, &c.

A sheep with two sets of horns was a freak brought from a Molokai ranch Saturday by the Mokoli.

There are now twenty-five persons at the Kahili receiving station. Four came from Hawaii Sunday.

Photographs of President Dole and Cabinet have been sent to the Hawaiian consuls at London and Sydney.

G. W. A. Hapal, Hilo, S. A. Kaunakakai, North Kona, District magistrates have been recommended.

The hotel which has secured Mr. Friedman as caterer would be fortunate in getting him as a general manager.

Luther Wilcox has undertaken to capture a shark for the Exhibition Company. He will fish near the harbor.

Richard Day, charged with embezzlement while acting as collector, has been rescued by his friends and is at large.

A normal class is being organized at the Fort Street school. The first meeting will be held at 2 to-morrow afternoon.

E company will give a $100 fireworks display Wednesday night and company has bought several hundred lanterns.

The flag pole presented to the American League by Mr. Egan is being moved to-day. It goes to the corner of Nuuanu and King streets.

The DAILY and WEEKLY STAR is on sale at "The Bazaar," J. A. Martin's book-store in Hilo, where subscriptions may be ordered. dw-tf.

A concert will be given at Emma Square this evening by the Provisional Government band. The program includes three solos.

The new electric service inaugurated during the past few days will be continuous. The public is invited to visit the station to-night and inspect the machinery.

President Goo Kim says the matter of importing 500 laborers was before the Chinese society, but had not been considered to any extent. The society, Goo Kim said this morning, would simply let the law take its course.

Mr. C. Good, Artist.

Whose beautiful crayon and water color portraits that have been so much admired leaves for the coast on the next Australia. Those wishing to secure any of his work will take notice that all orders must be in by February 1st.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith celebrated the fifth anniversary of their marriage yesterday at their residence on Piko street.

Chicago has expended over $200,000,000 in the construction of buildings since 1876. The annual expenditure for that purpose is between $45,000,000 and $50,000,000.

The study chair of Richard Baxter when he wrote "The Saints' Everlasting Rest" is in the possession of Rev. Reuben Thomas of Brookline, Mass.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM.

BARK VILLALTA YANKED IN FROM LIVERPOOL.

Schooner Mol Wahine Arrives. Mahimahi From Wailuku. Other Notes of the Restless Waves.

Rough weather on the Hamakua coast.

The steamer Waialeale goes to Lahaina and Hamakua to-morrow.

The schooner Mol Wahine arrived in from Wailuku to-morrow afternoon.

The American schooner Weatherwax is taking in sugar at Kahului, intending to leave Wednesday.

The steamer Mokoli will not leave until to-morrow afternoon, owing to necessary repairs being made on her machinery.

Captain Davies, late of the steamer Clarendon, is now skipper on the schooner Mahimahi. She arrived in from Wailuku this morning.

The steam launch Moleha of Kahului has been absent from that port now some time at Keane, Hana, where, owing to rough weather, it is impossible for her to get out.

The W. H. Dimond is receiving Makenzie sugar from the steamer Pole to-day, and the W. G. Irwin is receiving the cargo of the steamer Iwani at the Oceanic dock.

The American sailing schooner J. Eppinger; Captain M. White, arrived Saturday, 14 days from San Francisco, for water, which was furnished by the steam coast, after which she left for the Japan Coast, hunting and fishing.

The American sailing schooner Alexander, Captain Sorrensen, came into port yesterday in search of medicines for the captain, who is suffering with heart trouble. After obtaining the necessary medicine the schooner left for the Japan seas.

The steamer Kilauea Hou arrived in from Hawaii, after an absence of over two weeks, with a load of sugar from Pepee plantation. The captain reports heavy east and northeast winds prevailing and a slight accident to the mate at Kilauea, who was struck by a sling-load of sugar and knocked overboard.

The British bark Villalta, Captain Harland, 163 days from Liverpool, docked at Breezer's wharf this morning. The captain reports pleasant weather and the usual run of winds. The Horn was reached in sixty-three days and when the trades were encountered they had exceptionally good sailing. Not a vessel was spoken all the way out. The Villalta is consigned to Davies & Co., with a general cargo of merchandise.

PASSENGERS.

From Maui, per star Clarendon, Jan. 14—C. N. Rose, Mr. H. V. Friel and 3 children, H. McCabbin and wife, J. Kalamas, S. T. Woods, Mr. Robinson, H. Sharp, E. Muller, C. H. Miller, Mary K. Y. Amos, all 32 on deck.

From Molokai, per star Mokoli, Jan. 13—G. Devalche, Ed Devalche, and 15 on deck.

DEPARTURES.

From Kahului, per Consuelo, Jan. 10, for San Francisco—W. H. Benson.